RESTAURANTS, FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

One of the major items that differentiates the various cultures of man is when, where, and what he eats. From an informal Sundy Brunch to the most austere of black-tie dinner parties, mankind had tried every means to display his culinary prowess. We of the yearbook staff choose, in the 1983-84 annual, to pay tribute to this aspect of man's personality. We call this tribute "Restaurants: Food for Thought."

At Daniel Murphy High School, education is presented much as food is in a restaurant. The various subjects are served up as "courses" in courses. Each "chef" is a master in his/her own right, but they all are under the supervision of the "master chef" — Fr. Leslie V. Esposito.

The "cuisine" is an international potpourri of the various cultures of the world. Every race, creed, and color is represented at the Chez Murphy. Blacks, Whites, Yellows, Reds, Browns, Greens, Purples, and Blues are all at a point of equilibrium. At Daniel Murphy High School, everybody has an equal voice.

The word restaurant comes for the French word restaurer, meaning to restore. During the 1600's, people gathered at local inns in taverns. These taverns then became separate establishments (coffee houses in England and cafes in France). The actual word restaurant, however, was not used until after about 1750 when it was used to describe the more elite of the coffee houses. Today the word applies to just about any "watering hole" that serves food.

The theme, "Restaurants: Food for Thought," is a daring choice on our part. But, with an asserted effort on the part of every member of the yearbook staff (especially the chronicalling of the various restaurant types through art, by Matthew Campos), it can, and will, be done!

In conclusion, "Bon Appetit!!" Now that's food for thought!!!

Question — what teacher at Daniel Murphy High School has been there the longest?

Answer — Sister St. George? No. Mrs. Triphon? Wrong. Mr. Jackson? Wrong, again. The correct answer for which teacher has been at Daniel Murphy High School the longest is Mr. Terry Mathews.

As A teacher, coach, disciplinarian, and friend, Mr. Matthews is the greatest in the opinions of almost every student and faculty member on campus. Every person on campus has one reason or another to thank Mr. Mathews, whether it be for a favor he has done or just for sharing his wisdom and/or experience. The graduating class of 1984, for one, is forever grateful for his constant defense on the class's behalf against other members of the faculty and administration.

Terry Mathews, and his loving wife, Martie, have given of mind and body to help students at Daniel Murphy "grow-up." Mr. Mathews gives, and has given in the past, countless hours of his own time in order to assist in the various aspects of school life. He has driven the school's bus all over the southland, and he has donned a painters' cap in the process of giving the school a facelift, he has gone "out on a limb" time and time again to help a Murphy student or graduate.

Terry David Mathews was born on September 15, 1943 in Elmira, New York. He had no brothers or sisters. He attended a four room elementary school, which was called Westend. He went to Waverly High School which had 450 students. He attended three colleges: Compton College, Long Beach State University, and California State University at Los Angeles.

Mr. Mathews major achievements in life: two transcontinental bicycle trips, working in Compton with its youth, teaching history, and living to be forty.

He has worked at Murphy since 1976. Before Murphy, he worked as a recreation leader, and supervisor of recreation in Compton for twelve years.

Terry Mathews is absolutely dedicated to DMHS; to the administration, faculty, and most important to students. This is a quote from Mr.

Mathews on Murphy, ". . . opened up doors for me. It has widened my perspective of life, and established priorities from athletics to students. The Dominicans and the current administration, under the direction of Father Leslie Esposito, have given me the opportunity to be in a field that I really admire — education. I owe this one to Brother Fred!"

The man, Terry Mathews, is definitely unique. He has a long history for showing his love of his fellow man, especially the youth around him. He has proven, many a time, his devotion to the teaching profession. He has expressed his devotion to Daniel Murphy High School over his 8 years of service. He is the ideal person manifested in the form of a high school teacher.

We of the 1983-84 yearbook staff and of the graduating class of 1984 hereby dedicate this annual to Mr. Terry David Mathews — teacher, coach, friend.

In closing, Mr. Mathews had this to say to the students of Daniel Murphy High School, "Just do it!!"

LLOYD GLENN

Memories are those things and people that are deeply embedded in a person's heart. These memories which I have, can not be vanished through time. I will always remember my friends who gave me the support I needed. I will remember my family who encourage me to strive for the best things in life. I will also remember my teachers who prepare for college. I will especially remember Mr. Mathews who has been like a father to me. Daniel Murphy High School has been a major influence on my life. However, I owe all the praise to Jesus Christ. He has been my source and strength through the last four years. 1984

Well,I guess it's time for me to say goodbye to Murphy and to admit that eventhough it's kind of a boring school, it did mean a lot to me because Daniel Murphy High School taught me a lot of things.

So, I want to thank all my teachers who helped me finished highschool, my friendly classmates who encouraged me to study hard, and I also want to thank my parents for letting me study in a very good school like Murphy!

Thank you very much DANIEL MURPHY HIGH SCHOOL!!!

Memories are instruments that dwell in our hearts and our minds. Memories so meaningful and so true. Some memories are brief and wisplike, others weighty and concrete, If the memories are instrument, then memories are repercaution that dwell within. I've lived and grown in four years at Murphy. I've faced life's adversities and conquered them on many lonely battles. Sincere thanks to Mom and Dad. Both have given me something special which I'll forever embroce in my heart. It has been four long years. We have learned Shakespeare, Dopplers theory and, how to graph sine & cosine waves. But most of all we have learned how to function rationally in society. The books & calculators will get us through life. I believe that the teachers have fulfilled their task of preparing us for college. Whether it be Dr. Romig's mind-blowing Trig. Classes or Mr.Salassi's 550 page, two-day course in English Literature, I believe our faculty has shown professionalism beyond compare.

We have had our good items and our bad times. We have lost many along the way, but the strong were able to stick it out and they can now be proud of their accomplishments. When we walk down the isle, we are not leaving Murphy, but, rather, entering a new stage of life. Murphy will always be here. All the teachers, all the underclassmen wondering what it's like to be seniors, and all the senseless reasons for not getting out early on Friday.

Four years ago we wondered what it would be like to be a senior. Now we are seniors wondering what life holds in store for us. If we approach the years to come with the same determination as was evident in our stay at Murphy, then I am confident we shall succeed in this ever-puzzling world.

Father Leslie V. Esposito

The great American poet, Robert Frost, once wrote these words which are taken from his poem "The Road Not Taken."

"I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I —
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference."

For the past four years you have prepared yourselves to face this option of what path to follow in life which was so well described by the American bard, Robert Frost. During these four years, you have been challenged to pursue personal excellence, acquire knowledge, and successfully face up to the challenges of everyday life. You have been part of a high school community committed to higher learning. You have been exposed to a tradition that has made Daniel Murphy High School a truly noble institution. That tradition is based on a commitment to excellence. For all of you who were brave and wise enough to avail yourselves of the pursuit of achieving excellence in your life, a reward of directed purpose and future success will be yours.

Daniel Murphy is conscious of its long tradition — a tradition which we pass on. A tradition that promotes good competition, higher values,and viable human beings. Hopefully, you will become a vital part of this tradition. This tradition that you now share in has at its core a transcending spirit. This spirit must remain constant through all the turmoil of your lives.

This transcending spirit of Daniel Murphy High School most certainly includes an openness to the good in people, to the good in our times, and to a ministry to others. This openness should be a special mark that is imprinted on the very character of your being. This quality is unique for it gives you an identity that makes you stand out. The transcending spirit of Daniel Murphy can be a way of life, an attitude of stability and acceptance of the beauty in all mankind. It is this spirit that makes you unique., Without it, we are truly clanging cymbals.

Most of us are accustomed to looking outside of ourselves for fulfillment. We are living in a world that conditions us to believe that outer attainments can give us what we want. Yet again and again, our experience shows us that nothing external can completely fulfill the deep longing within for something more.

Most of the time we find ourselves striving for something which always seems to lie just beyond our reach. We are caught up in possessions and not in the achieving of inner contentment and peace.

It is said in the Bible: "Be still and know that I am God." In these few words lies the key to achieving the peace and contentment you so much desire. You must learn to tap deeper into the very souls of yourselves to solve the most important questions of life — Who am I? Why am I here? How do I find inner peace?

It is my hope that each of you will choose the path in life which will lead you to that inner peace and tranquility.

Dear Seniors,

Your four years at Daniel Murphy are over and it is time to move on to the next exciting chapters of your lives. I hope what you accomplished during high school was the best you were capable of doing. If it was, you will be leaving here with no regrets. And that is one thing that will always make you happy — being able to move on knowing you have always done your best, and having no regrets. At Murphy, we hope you learned to be organized, to be prepared, to be honest, and to be confident. What a great feeling it is to face each new day being totally ready. Remember those school days when you would awake with an enormous dread of going to class because you had an important test waiting for you for which you never found the time to study? What a feeling that caused! You knew that inevitable disaster was waiting. Most of life, generally speaking, can be like that. Whatever is waiting for you "out there" can be a disaster also if you are not ready. If you do not organize your life's goals to such an extent that they are realistic, achievable, and very much wanted, life will be a disapointment to you. If you do not challenge new vistas with confidence, eagerness, and ambition, you will be a disappointment to life. It is totally now up to you. I hope you used your time at Murphy well. Good luck to all of you in whatever you choose to do. Do it the best you can.

Sister St. George Skurla

Dear Seniors:

A famous philosopher once said that we live our lives forward, but we understand them backward. He meant, I think, that we need the perspective of time and experience to make sense of what happens to us as we move from day to day.

For four years you have been very much concerned with "living forward," focused on getting out of high school and getting into a college or career. Now you have graduated. You have achieved one set of goals, and you are "living forward" again — this time with a new set of goals. And so it goes — this is life's pattern.

I hope, though, that will all the forward looking and living, you do not forget about understanding backward. As time passes and your experience grows, look back at your days at Murphy and try to understand and appreciate all that Murphy did for you.

Sincerely,

Sister St. George

Dear Seniors,

"It's that time, again!" How frequently we use that phrase . . . but which TIME is it? Dinner time? Graduation time? Day light savings time? It can have so many meanings in our lives.

Time is defined as "continuous existence, comprising the past, present, and future." Let us take a moment to look at time and what it can mean to you.

In you life there has been your time at school — your Daniel Murphy time, a noble time. There has been your Daniel Murphy Time Past, a definite portion of your life which was spent in a myriad of activities, a time of opportunities, filled with moments of growth, happiness and pain — a time to come to know what it means to be noble.

Then there is Time Present — moments when something takes place, the Today, the Now, no longer a time at Daniel Murphy; a time again of opportunities filled with moments of growth, happiness and pain — a time to be, and a time to be noble.

Beyond the now is Time Future — the unknown, the challenging, a time of opportunities filled with moments of growth, happiness and pain — a time to be met in a noble way.

Life will always be full of opportunities. Only you can make them worthwhile, and only you can make them noble. May what you have learned at Daniel Murphy make all your times the best of times.

Congratulations.
Sister Rose Adrian, C.S.J.

This is the time of the year, when drawing to a conclusion of their high school career, administrators, faculty and students reflect on the "doings" and "undoings" of a group of young people who have been with us for four years — the class of '84. It is tempting, at least from the position of Dean of Students, to use the power of the pen to castigate a group that did less than what would normally be expected of them. But that missuse of power would be unprofessional and, more than likely, useless. Instead, I will point out the positive — and, indeed, there are some who stand out in particular, in the form of a nucleus of young men who I have admired and will hold dear in my memories. They were the survivors — the tough ones — the ones that did it well in a maelstrom of controversy, apathy, and mediocrity — the ones who are not only standouts in this senior class, but would be in any class, any era. They are, indeed, among the finest people I've ever known and, for that reason, I would like to give my appreciations and best wishes to: John Baird, Byron Botshekan, Steven Cedrun, Lloyd Glenn, Ruben Gonzales, Kevin Jackson, Jerome Duplush, John Lavin, Lance Mitchell, Gary Obligacion, and John Stefanon. There is, of course, another small group I've shared good times with as a teacher or coach. These too, will be in my thoughts but, for the "tough ones" — the "surviving dozen" — I will not only wish the best but, thank for the memories and rewarding years.

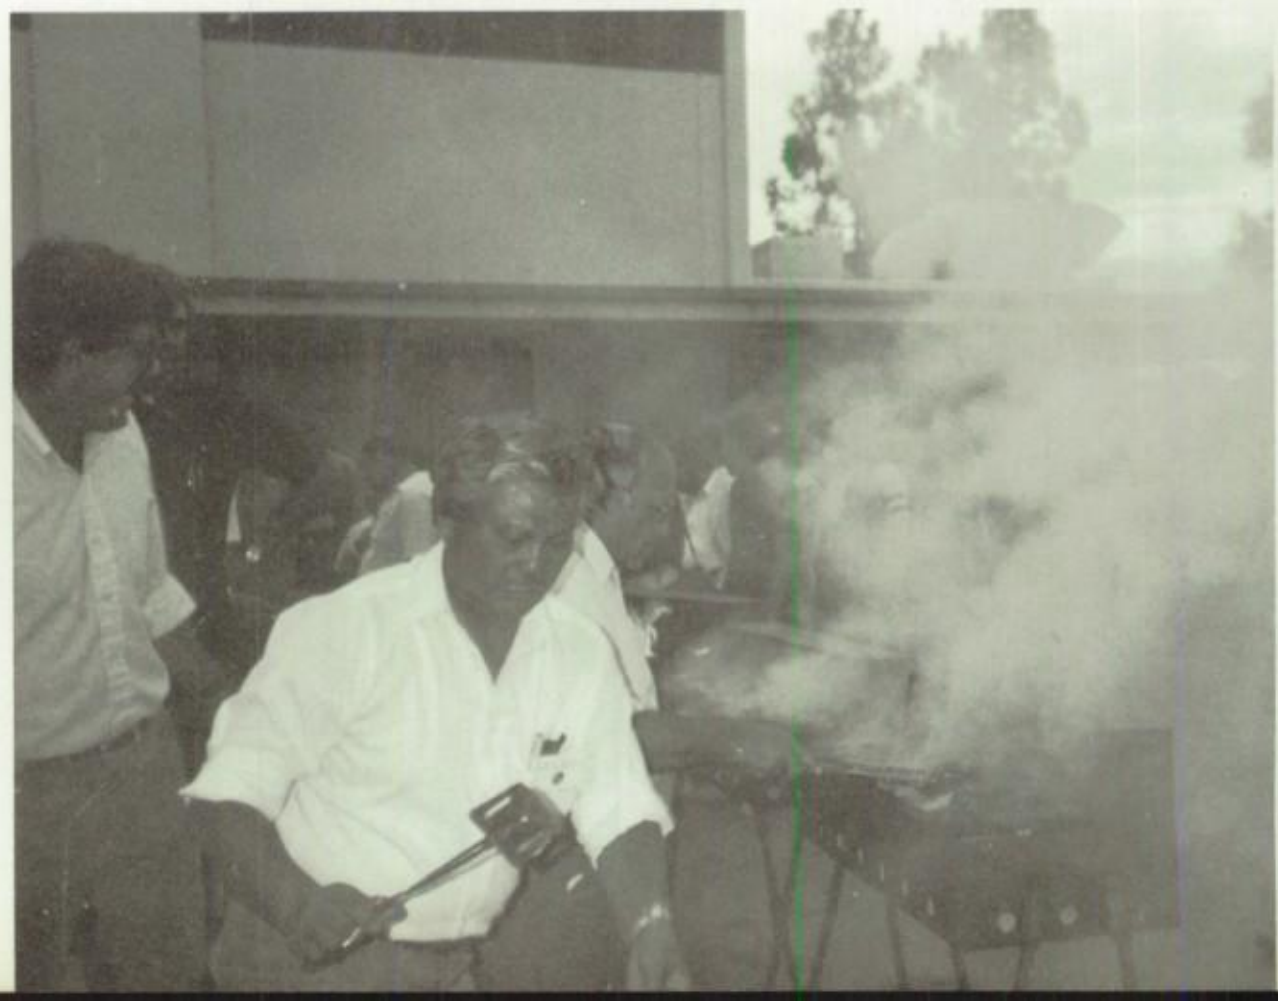
Back to School Bar B.Q.

Upon being greeted by our resident Maitre'D, Father Esposito, friends and family confirmed their reservations for an exquisite meal. The waitresses for the evening were the cheerleaders who served the customers at the buffet. The meal consisted of barbecued New York Steak, french fries, and a crisp lettuce salad. Those over twenty-one, could enjoy cocktails at the no-host bar. Once they were showed to their tables, they socialized and enthusiastically discussed the upcoming year. Seconds on steaks were available to those with hearty appetites. When they were finished, the cheerleaders offered ice cream to those who wanted it. Our Head Waiter, introduced our wonderful cheerleaders, who provided the entertainment for the evening. The staff was overwhelmed by the generous tips received for a successful school year.



Welcome Back

Noble Week

This year, our unseasoned Freshman, provided a delectable appetizer for Seniors during Noble Week. Throughout their initiation, the Freshmen showed a great deal of class spirit.

On the first day of Noble Week, the Freshmen were prepared to meet their famished Seniors. They were told their responsibilities as Freshmen and the extent they had to obey the Seniors. They were required to wear bow ties which was certainly an odd sight on campus.

This year there were some very creative Freshmen costumes. Forest MacDonald took the cake in his Boy George get-up; Forest and John Fovos, both taking part in the caramel covered onion contest, won this year's award for the most spirited Freshman. The Freshmen-Senior picnic at Cheviot Hills Park proved to be a worth while activity. The Freshmen were allowed the chance to get to know the Seniors better by playing games like touch football. Noble Week and the Picnic were both a great success.

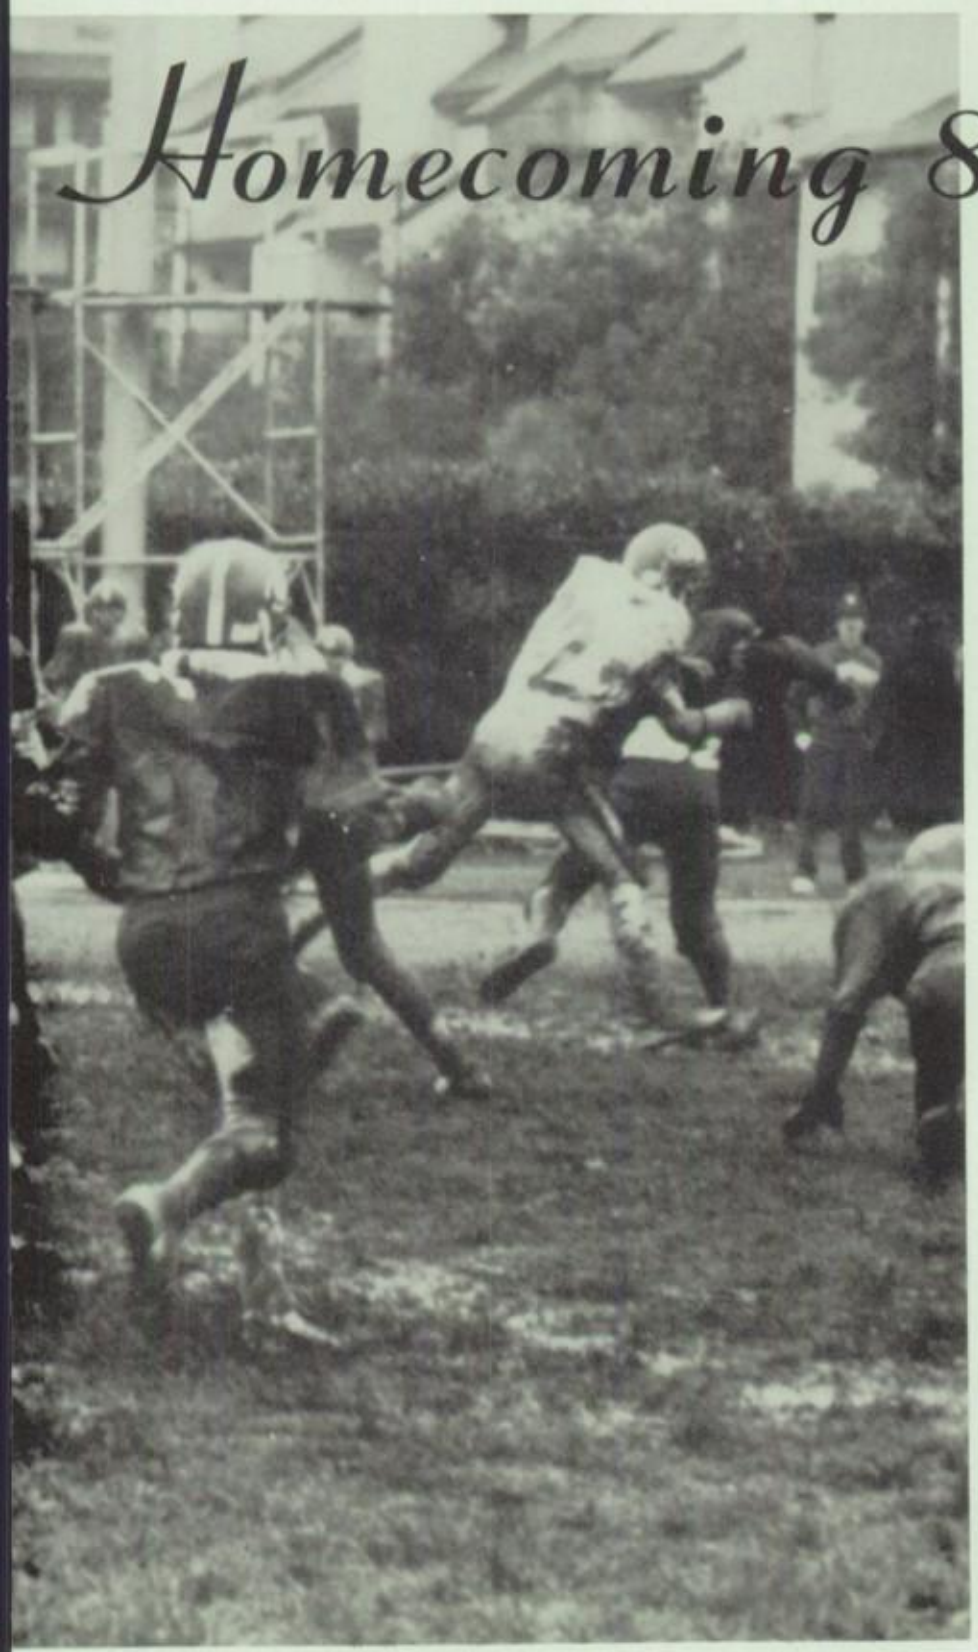
"Football

Homecoming is usually a festive, high-energy event. The 1983-84 Football Homecoming at Daniel Murphy High School was no exception. What better way to end a great football season than a win against Capistrano Valley Christian High School and a spectacular dance in the school gym.

With the expected theme of the Olympic Games. This year's Homecoming was definitely an event to remember. Those who went to the dance marvelled at the elaborate decoration and design contrived by Michael Kato. The usually drab and mundane gym of Daniel Murphy reached the epitome of artistic grace in the form of simplicity. Banners, balloons, and memorable white lights changed the everyday appearance of a high school into a work of art.

The pageantry of the Homecoming King and

Homecoming 83"



Queen was stunning as well. In a beautiful ceremony making use of the school's staircase and platforms, the court was crowned in good order. Participants in the 1983-84 Homecoming court were: Darren Joyner, Forrest MacDonald, Rahmin Botshekan, Richard Hicks, Albert Roberson, Clyde Hatch, Robert Ducut, Kevin Harper, Michael Kato, Rod Soriano, Ruben Gonzalez, Sheila Farnsworth, Laura Copas, Micelle Castillo, Delyla Sotelo, Tracy Oliver, Christina Mendoza, Duane McCoy, Ginalynn Santianos, Duane Wilson, Alice Gutierez, Cecil Santos, Lilly Sotelo.

All in all, it is safe to say that this was the most elaborate Homecoming at Murphy in several years. The way things are going, we can look forward to as much, or more, in the future!

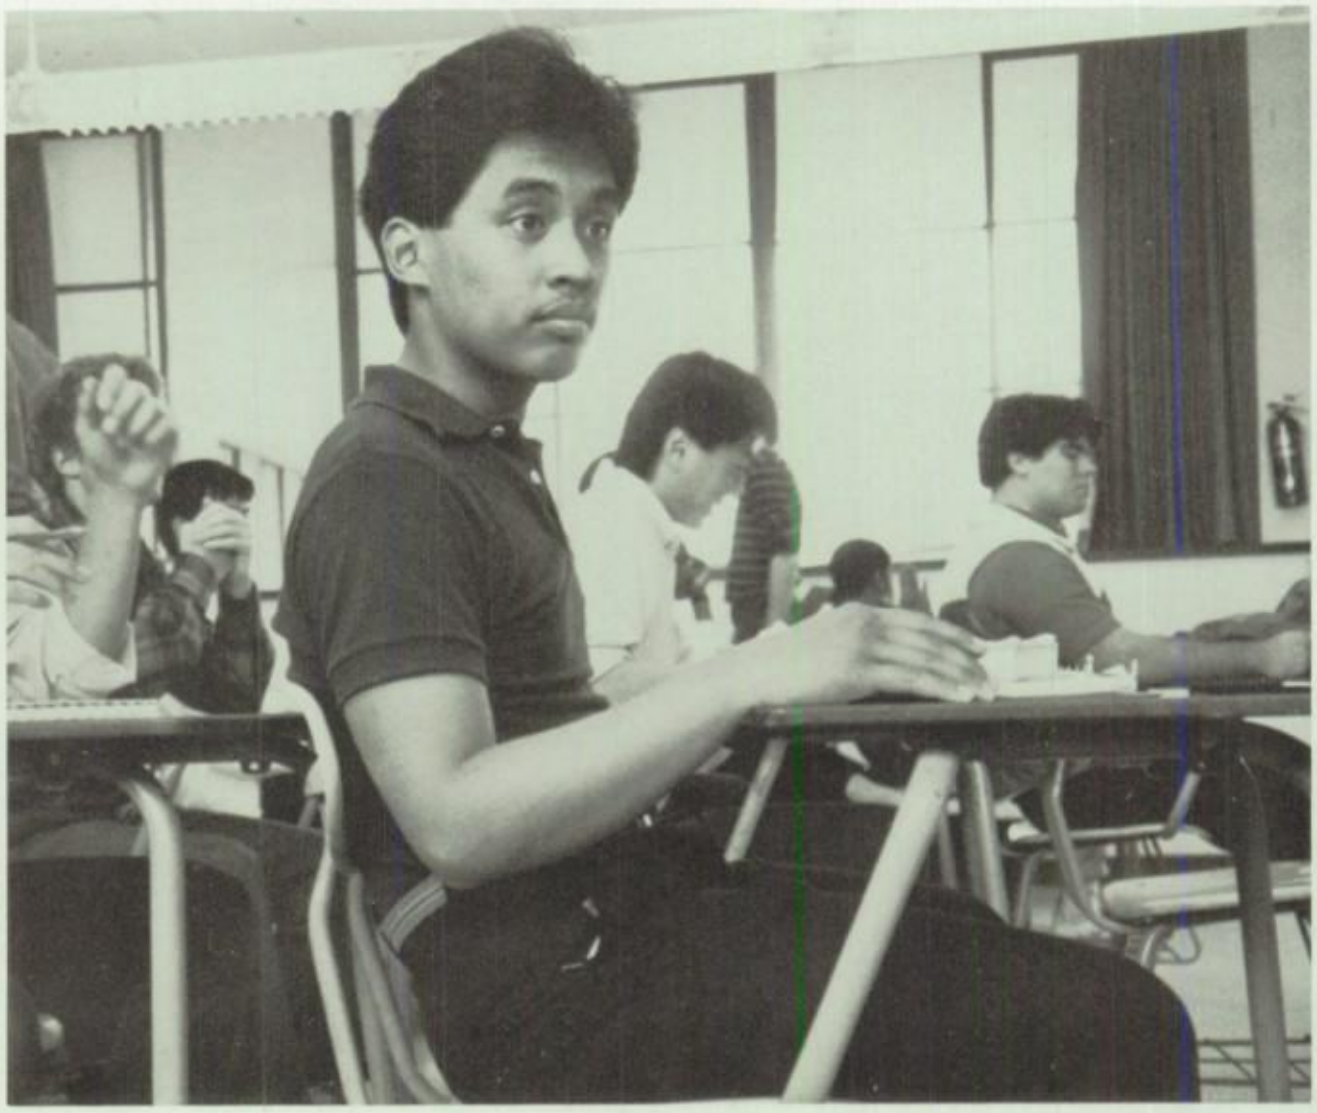
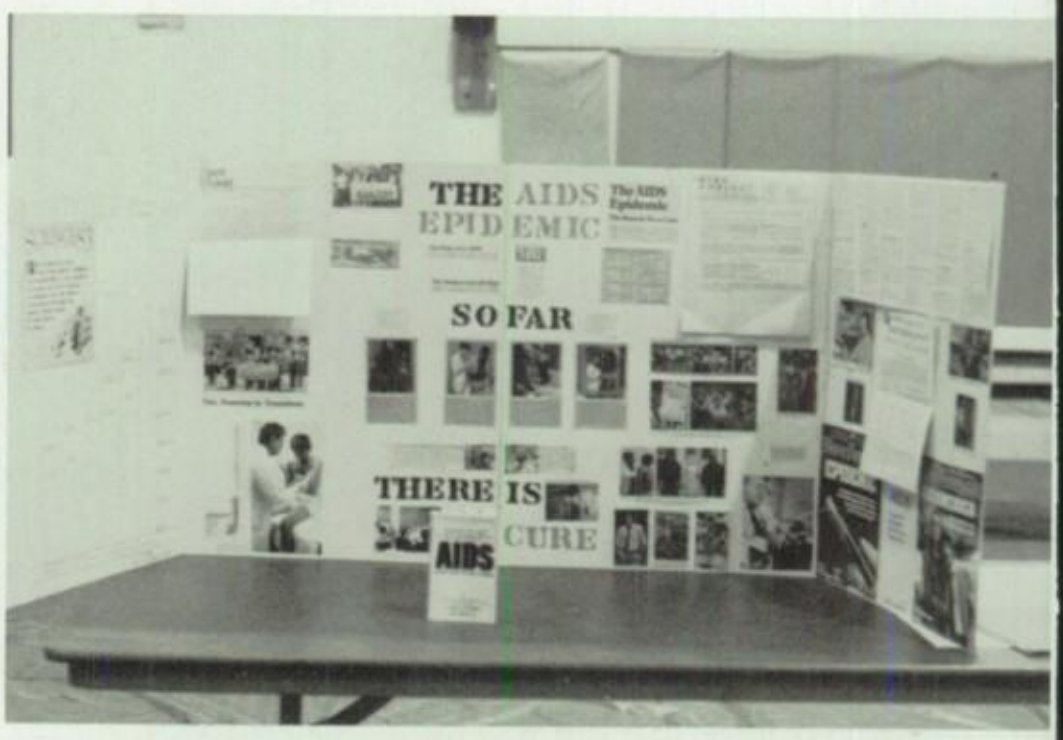
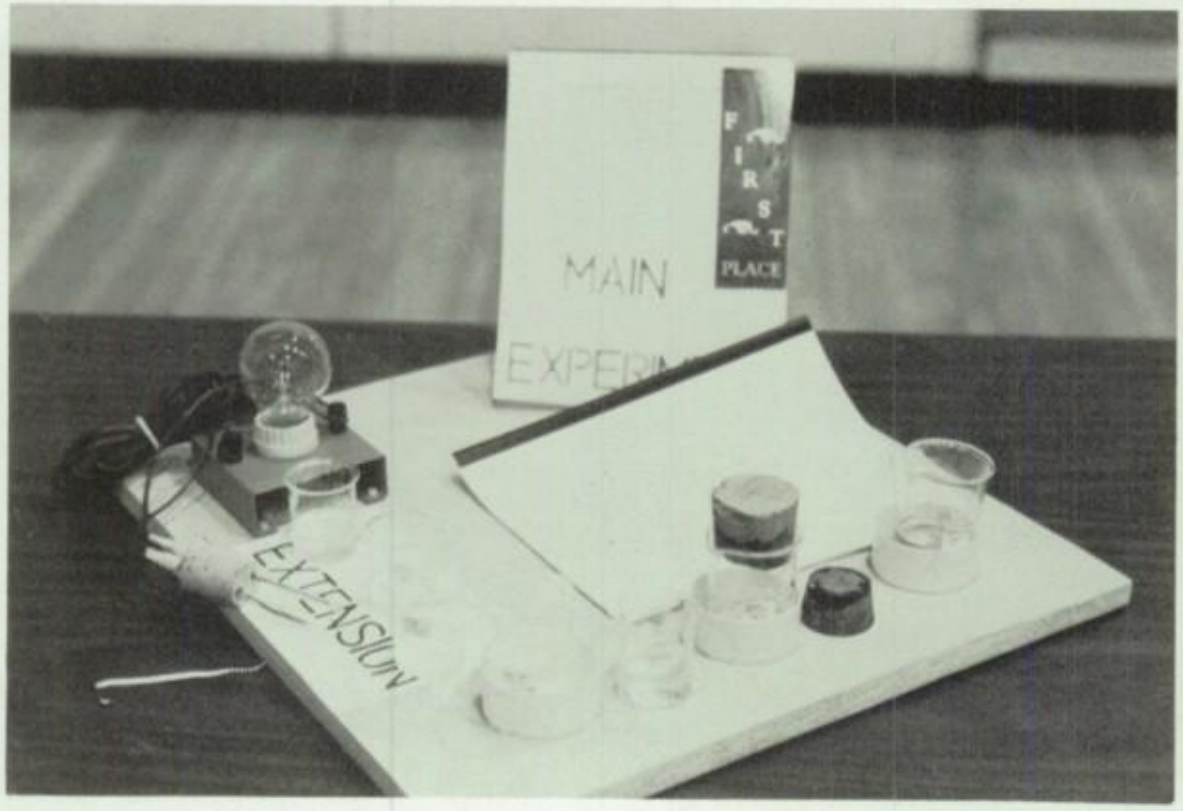
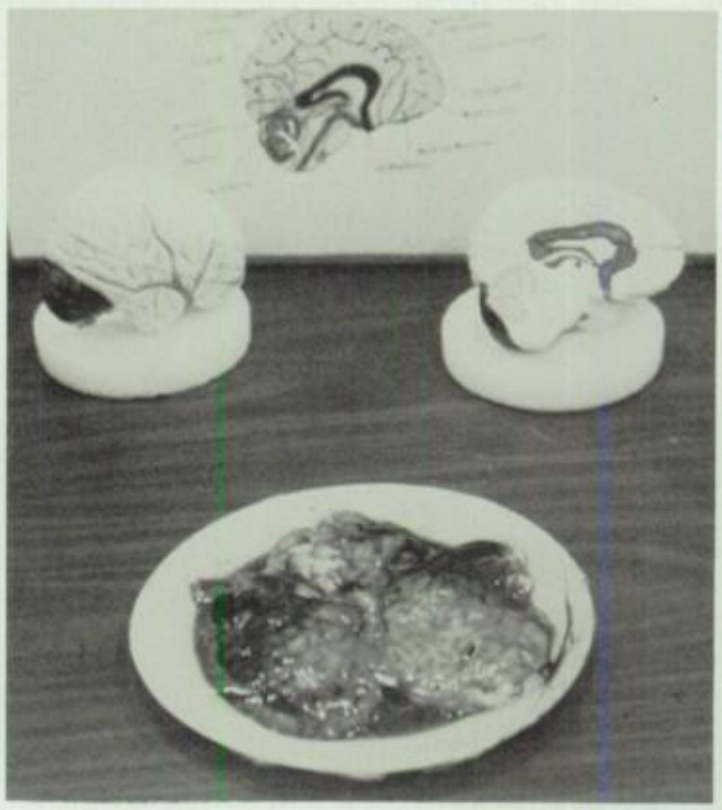
Just as any fine restaurant of the world, an annual can not touch on every minute bit of "Cuisine" that exsists. Keeping this in mind we will attempt to expand our culinary repertoire to represent every race, creed, and culture within Daniel Murphy High School. Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors side by side emonate the true spirit of Murphy. We present Smorgasbord.

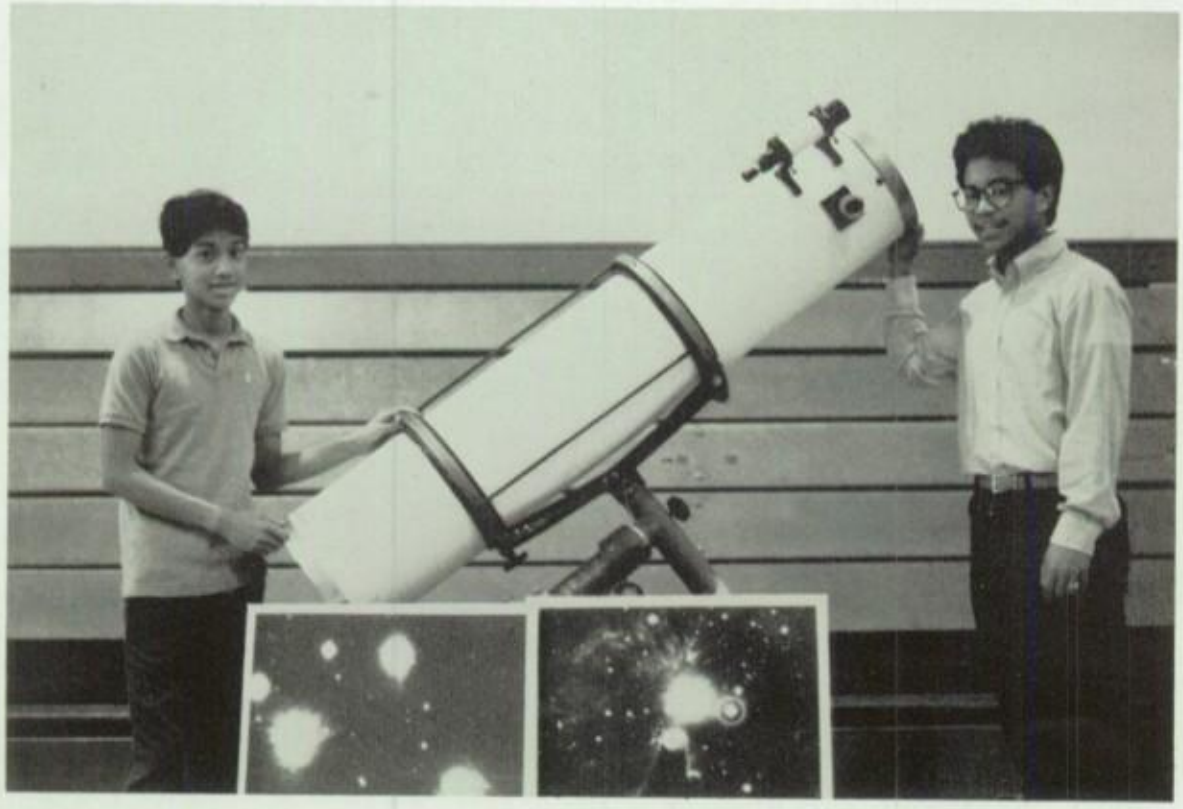
By Gary Obligacion











Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Astronomy, Astrology, Physiology — all these sciences and more were gathered at one place, at one time, earlier this year. "Where did this happen?" one may ask. The 1983-84 Daniel Murphy High School Fair is the answer.

The first Science Fair at Murphy since 1981, this collection of projects, experiments, and term papers was a huge success. The turnout of the contestants and the quality was surely a sight to behold. If the 1983-84 science fair was any indication as to the type of extravaganza we can expect from Murphy students, we will see more and more wonderous things in the years to come.

"When shall we three meet again in thunder, lightning, or in rain?"

These are the famous opening lines to one of the greatest theatrical tragedies of all time . . . William Shakespeare's Macbeth. Directed by Mr. John Propster Jr. and produced by Mr. Richard Salassi, Daniel Murphy High School staged a bold rendition of the shakespearean classic during November of the 1983-84 school year. Murphy showcased the talents of Alex Mata and Tiffany Barsotti as Macbeth and Lady Macbeth, respectively. Also worth noting were Rod Soriano, as Banquo, and Tony Schreiner, as Macduff. The individual performances were comendable all the way around, from the most dignified of nobles, to the most down-trodden of murdurers. From staging to set building, this production of Macbeth was an apparent and appreciated effort. Hopefully, we'll see more daring, well-done plays in the near future. But, in the mean time, we can keep looking toward "Tomorrow, Tomorrow, and Tomorrow . . ."

Macbeth

A Shakespearean Classic

The Pajama Game

A MUSICAL COMEDY

A SERIOUS DRAMA

In the immortal words of Vernon Hines, "This is a very serious drama."

That statement in itself turned out to be a joke. On April 5, 6, 7 and 8 Immaculate Heart High School and Daniel Murphy High School joined forces to perform the award-winning musical/comedy of the 1950's, "The Pajama Game." Conducted in the Immaculate Heart High School auditorium. This was the most successful Murphy production in the past ten years.

The play featured the talents of Joao Stefanon, Kim Myers, Gary Obligacion, Caroline Kamer, Ernie Munoz, Jenny Hardaway, and Tony Schreiner to name a few. Four directors put their input into the performance — Donald Miller, Mike Yuhauz, Cecilia Garcia, Karl Klein, Mathew Campos, Robin Frojan and Marco Flores headed a well-talented and hardworking crew.

All in all, "The Pajama Game" was an oustanding success. The union between Daniel Murphy and Immaculate Heart is now complete. The play acted as a liaison linking the two schools for some time to come.

The entire production was summarized, once again, by the character Vernon Hines. " — nothing's quite the same as The Pajama Game."

THE UNSUNG HEROES

This year's Spring Musical crew emerged as one of the best in recent years. Long before any student had heard of "The Pajama Game" a small dedicated group of guys had been sneaking off to Immaculate Heart H.S. to work with a small group of I.H.H.S. girls on what one day would become the background for the talent that would grace the stage of I.H.H.S. on the weekend of April 5-8.

Under the leadership of our Technical Director, Mike (Shemp) Yuhasz, this small group of students met every day after school for a month and a half and every Saturday morning, afternoon and evening to paint, hammer and do whatever gross job came up.

But after a while the crew started to become more then just another group of workers. After weeks of working together, eating together and having constant paint fights when no one was looking, we started to become something of a family by spending more time together after our work was done.

So by the time the play had come and gone we were able to party together, celebrate each other's birthdays, and more important to feel for each other.

When the play was over and the applause had died down for the actors the crew's only satisfaction was to know that the props were there, that the costumes fit, that the makeup was perfect, that the lights were shone, that the sound was heard and that the flats stood. Once again the Unsung Heroes had come with little noise or attention but now it is time for some attention.

This year's stage crew was led by Stage Managers Robin Froen, (our fearless leader) and Matthew Campos and his chains. The rest of the Stage, Lighting, Sound, Costume and Make Up crew included: The Murphy Breakers, Cesar Terrientes (CAT), Marco Flores (MAF), Roberto Ruabalccava, Robert Ducut, Andy Irie, Mickael Kato, Dan Kirksey and David Maruyama. And the IHHS girls Dana Liston, a great painter; April Forbes, yes Eric's sister; Debbie Fryman and her flowers; Yevette Tijunait (Princes), Maria Pizzaro (Cinderella); Michelle Limo, Dee Dee Irwin, Maria Fabbrocino, Margaret Spingola, Suzy Valadez, Beth Tessenholtz, Gaylen Matthews, Barbara Legionaire, Vita Cisneros and Christina Ernst (I. S.).

To all these girls we thank you for sharing in this craziness called a play with us and we hope to see you next year.

Daniel Murphy High 1984 Junior Senior Prom

They never looked better. The seniors and juniors of Daniel Murphy — along with their dates — "Put on the dog" and prepared themselves to "paint the town red." Teachers and students alike gathered together to "formally" celebrate the departure of the class of 1984.

Held at the Beverly Hills Hotel on May 4, this year's prom was a bold display of the organization, inspiration, and dedication held in the class of 1985. Robert Ducut, Juan Quezada, and Ron Doria — the junior class officers — worked hard the entire year to get enough money to stage the event. Dances, dues, and donations were all applied at various times during the school year.

All in all, this year's prom was one of the best in recent years. It was well staged, well-planned, and well-attended. Everyone jumped at the chance to go "Black-Tie" and show off his/her aptitude in the rules of common social etiquette. Everyone took on the roll of "reserved social butterfly" as the band Fusion played from their repertorie of "easy-listening" (i.e. Paul Ryan). The men of Murphy opened doors, pulled chairs, and got drinks. It was all worth the effort.

Rumor has it that the prom will be held at the Beverly Hills Hotel next year, too. If so, there is a chance that it will be as good as the prom this year.

J.V. Cross Country

On Saturday, November 8, the Daniel Murphy Cross Country team had their finals at Legg Lake. This final run marked the end of the team's season. Our team, coached by Dennis Banks, has worked long and hard for the final competition. The varsity's record was 5-3, and the junior varsity's record was 6-2. Going into the finals, the varsity was in fourth place, and the junior varsity was in third place.

Murphy did very well at the finals. Overall, the junior varsity placed third, and the varsity placed fourth. Congratulations to junior varsity's Ramon Moreno who came in third place with a time of 27.49. The next time three junior varsity scores for Murphy were Miguel Acevado with a time of 18.25, Gary Evans with a time of 18.30, and Kelly Sackett with a time of 19.07.

On the varsity level, John Baird finished first for Murphy with a time of 16.29, followed by Alex Torres with a time of 16.49, and then came Howard Friedman with a time of 17.09.

Other J.V. runners were David Maruyama with a time of 20.01, Andy Irie with a time of 20.32, and Erwin Ikinaka with a time of 22.16.

Other varsity runners were Lawrence Okinaka with a time of 18.03, Chris Freeman with a time of 18.01, and Tony Armedilla with 18.30.

Top: R. Moreno, G. Evans, A. Irea, D. Maruyama. Bottom: D. Irea, M. Acevedo, K. Sackett.

Welcome Back! . . .

After an absence of football from Murphy for one year, the Nobles had a surprising 6-3 record in non-league play. This year was supposed to be a rebuilding of the team, as it turned out, it was a great success. Having had only nineteen players: Kevin Jackson, John Lavin, James Bledsoe, Kevin Harper, and Rodney Rosser. Our running back, Kevin Jackson broke many of the school's records, of most importance the record for total yards in a season. A total of about twenty-six records were set this year. We can look forward to most of the football team returning next season. Under the leadership of Coaches Stirling Hart, Curtis Yarrington, and Tony Crawford, the Nobles impressed the doubters.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Daniel Murphy Varsity Basketball had a very disappointing season. The 5-17 record is the worst in many years. Lack of senior experience and height were the main contributing factors. But there is a positive side. With four returning starters along with this years JV Championship Team, the future looks bright. Best of Luck Gums and Pete.

NEW HOPES

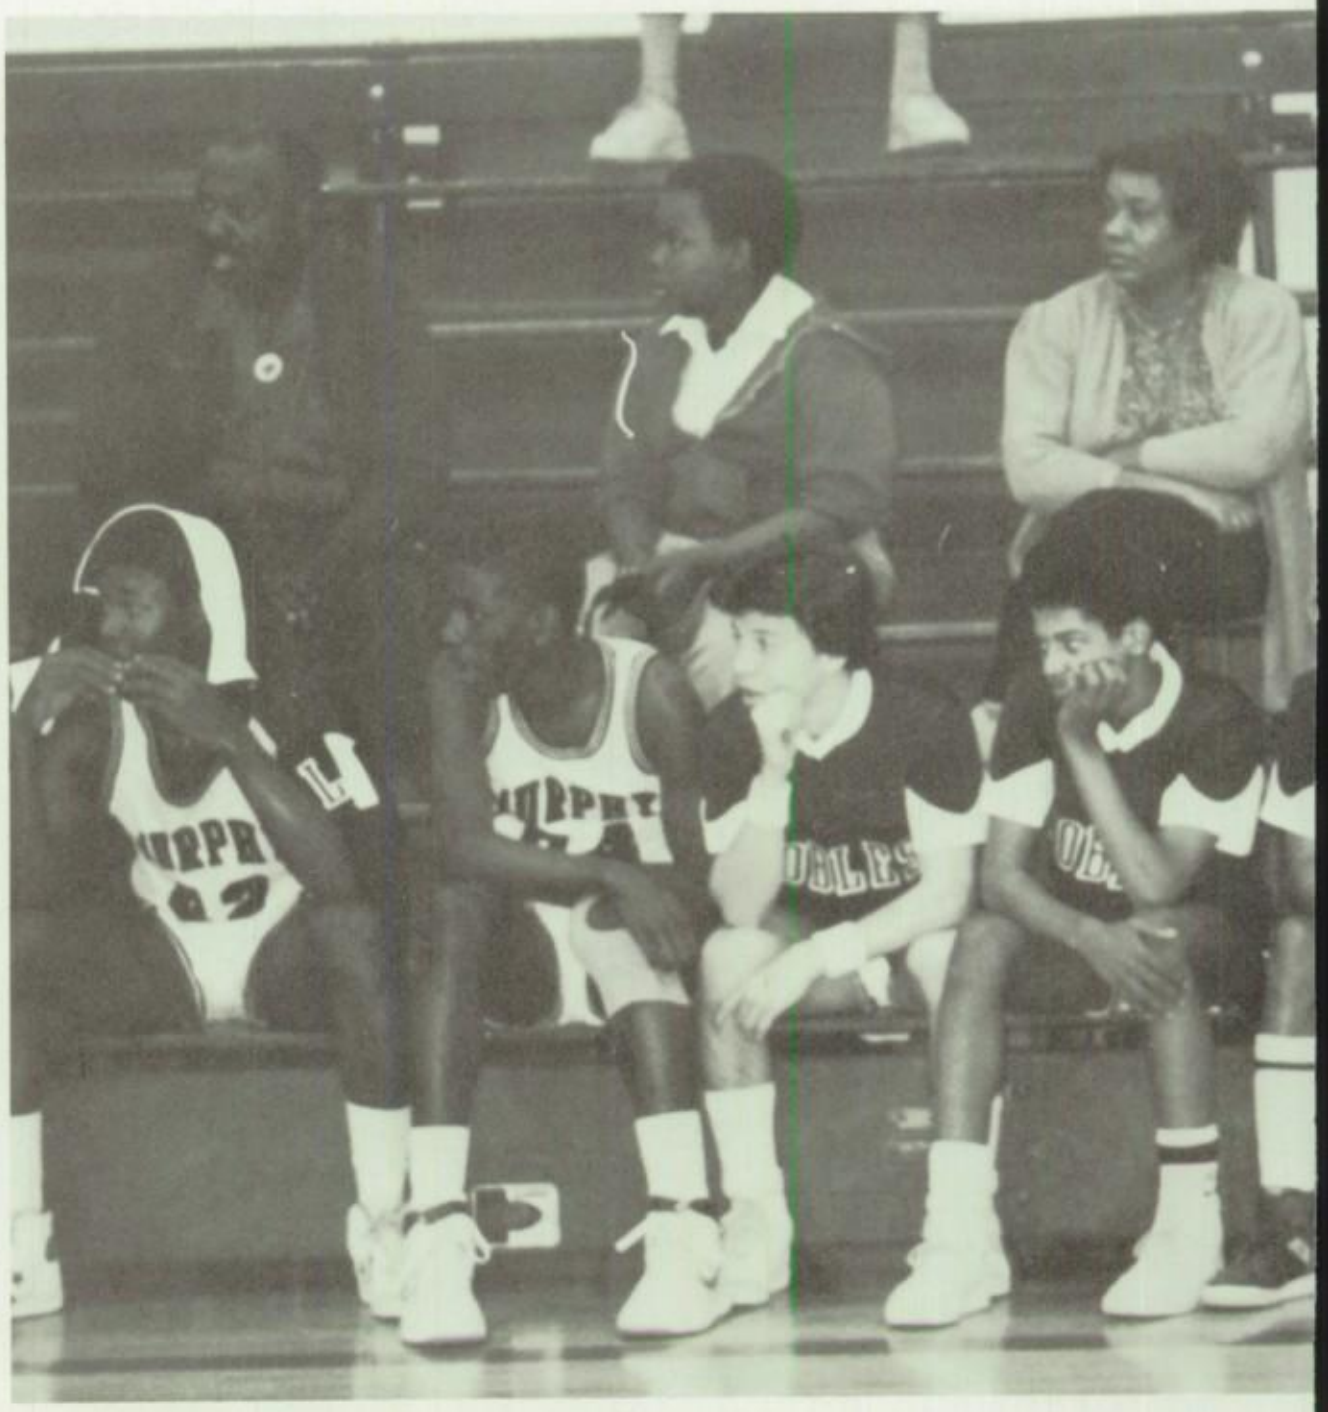
With an overall record of 16-6 and a Camino Real League record of 11-1, the Nobles Junior Varsity ended its season as League Champions.

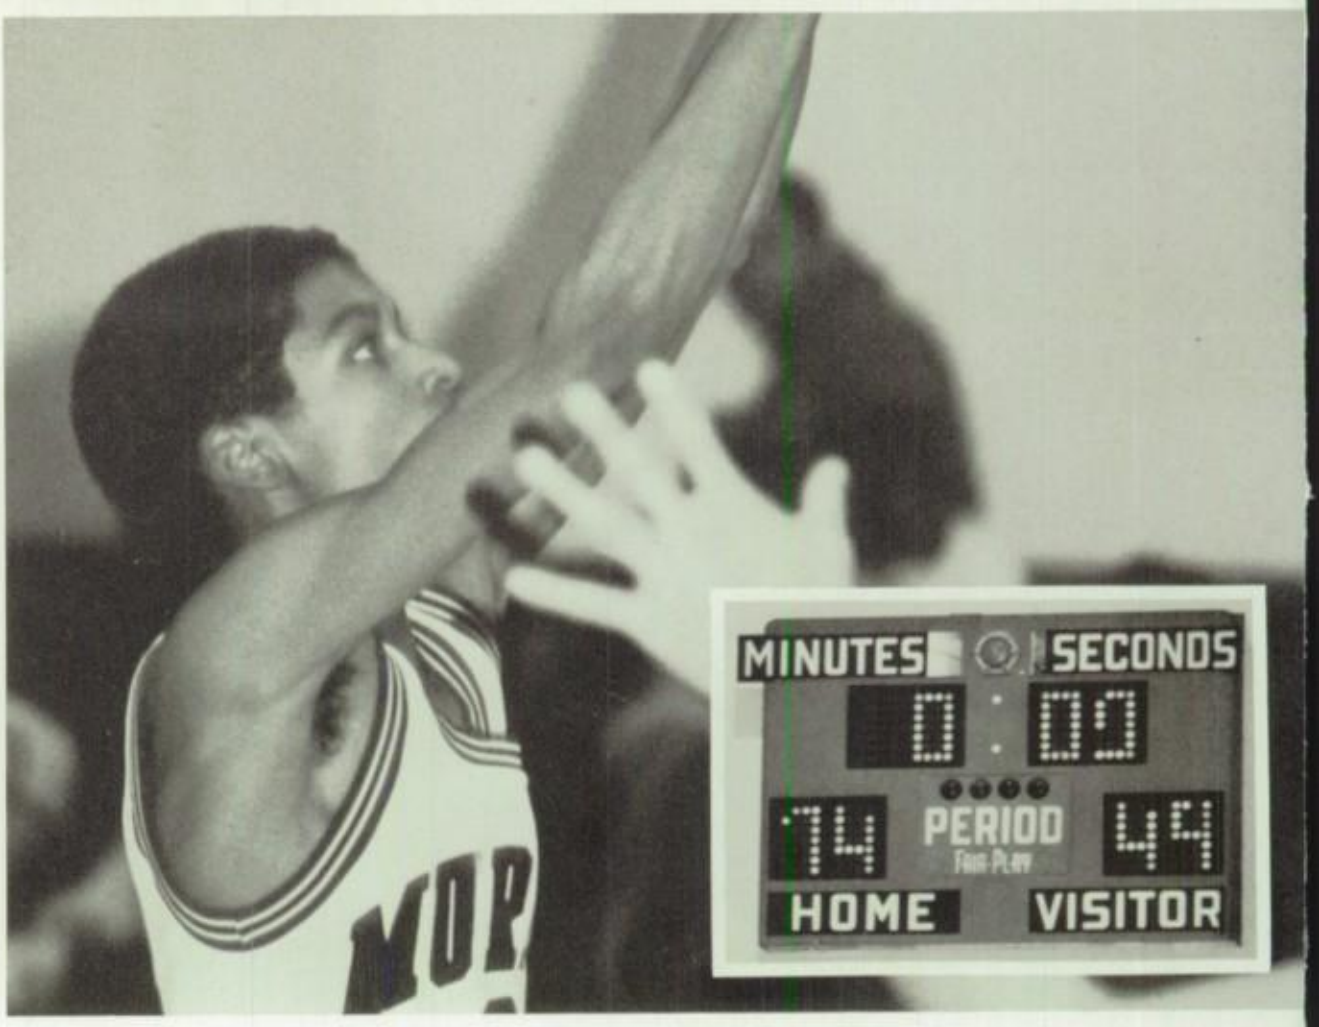
Due to grades and other setbacks the J.V. got off to a slow start. But over Christmas vacation they hit their stride finishing third in the Bosco Tech Tournament (which included a win over Loyola) and then roared through their league schedule averaging 65 points a game while allowing only 41 points.

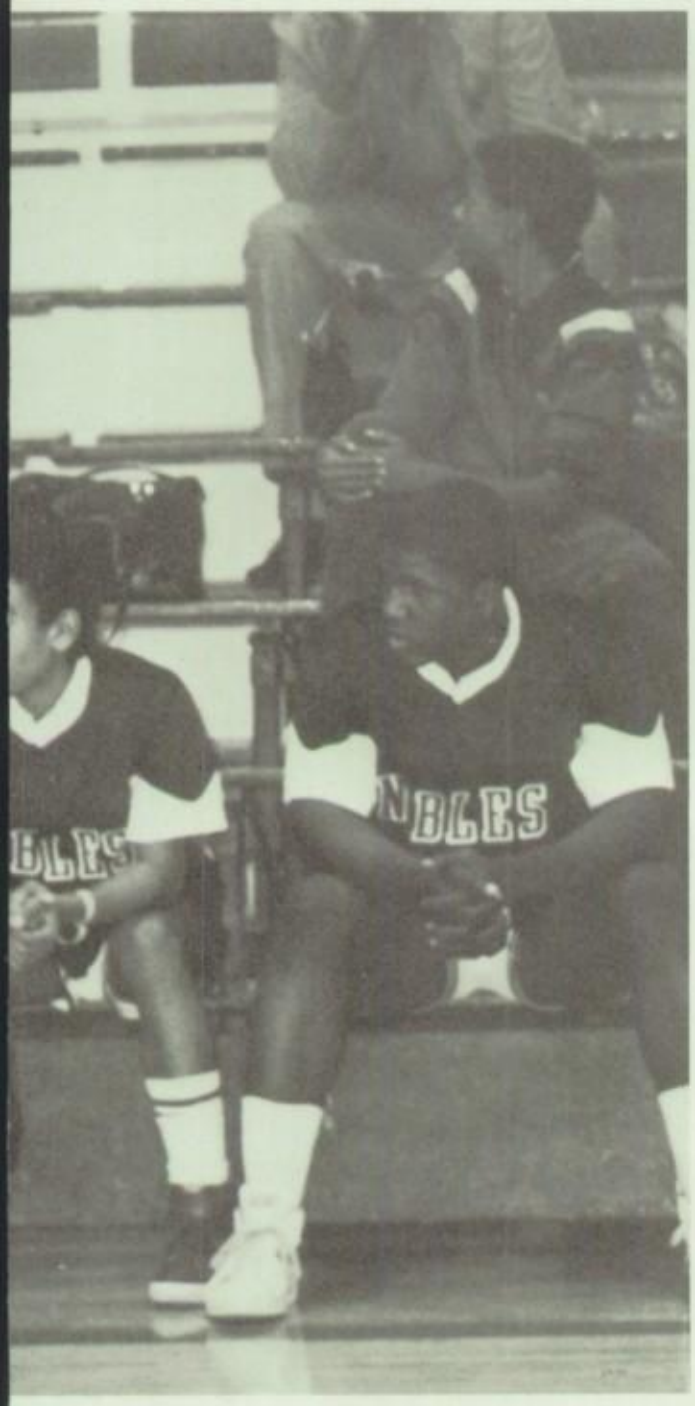
It is very hard to single out any individual performers since playing time was fairly equal. The J.V. Nobles received, outstanding guard play from Andre Gougis, Sharrocky Hollie, Jon Wilson, Franco Frisan and Derek Gougis. Solid scoring and dominating board play from Roger Ross, Reggie MacReady, Lance Malveaux and Milton (Here's the Beef!) Wilson.

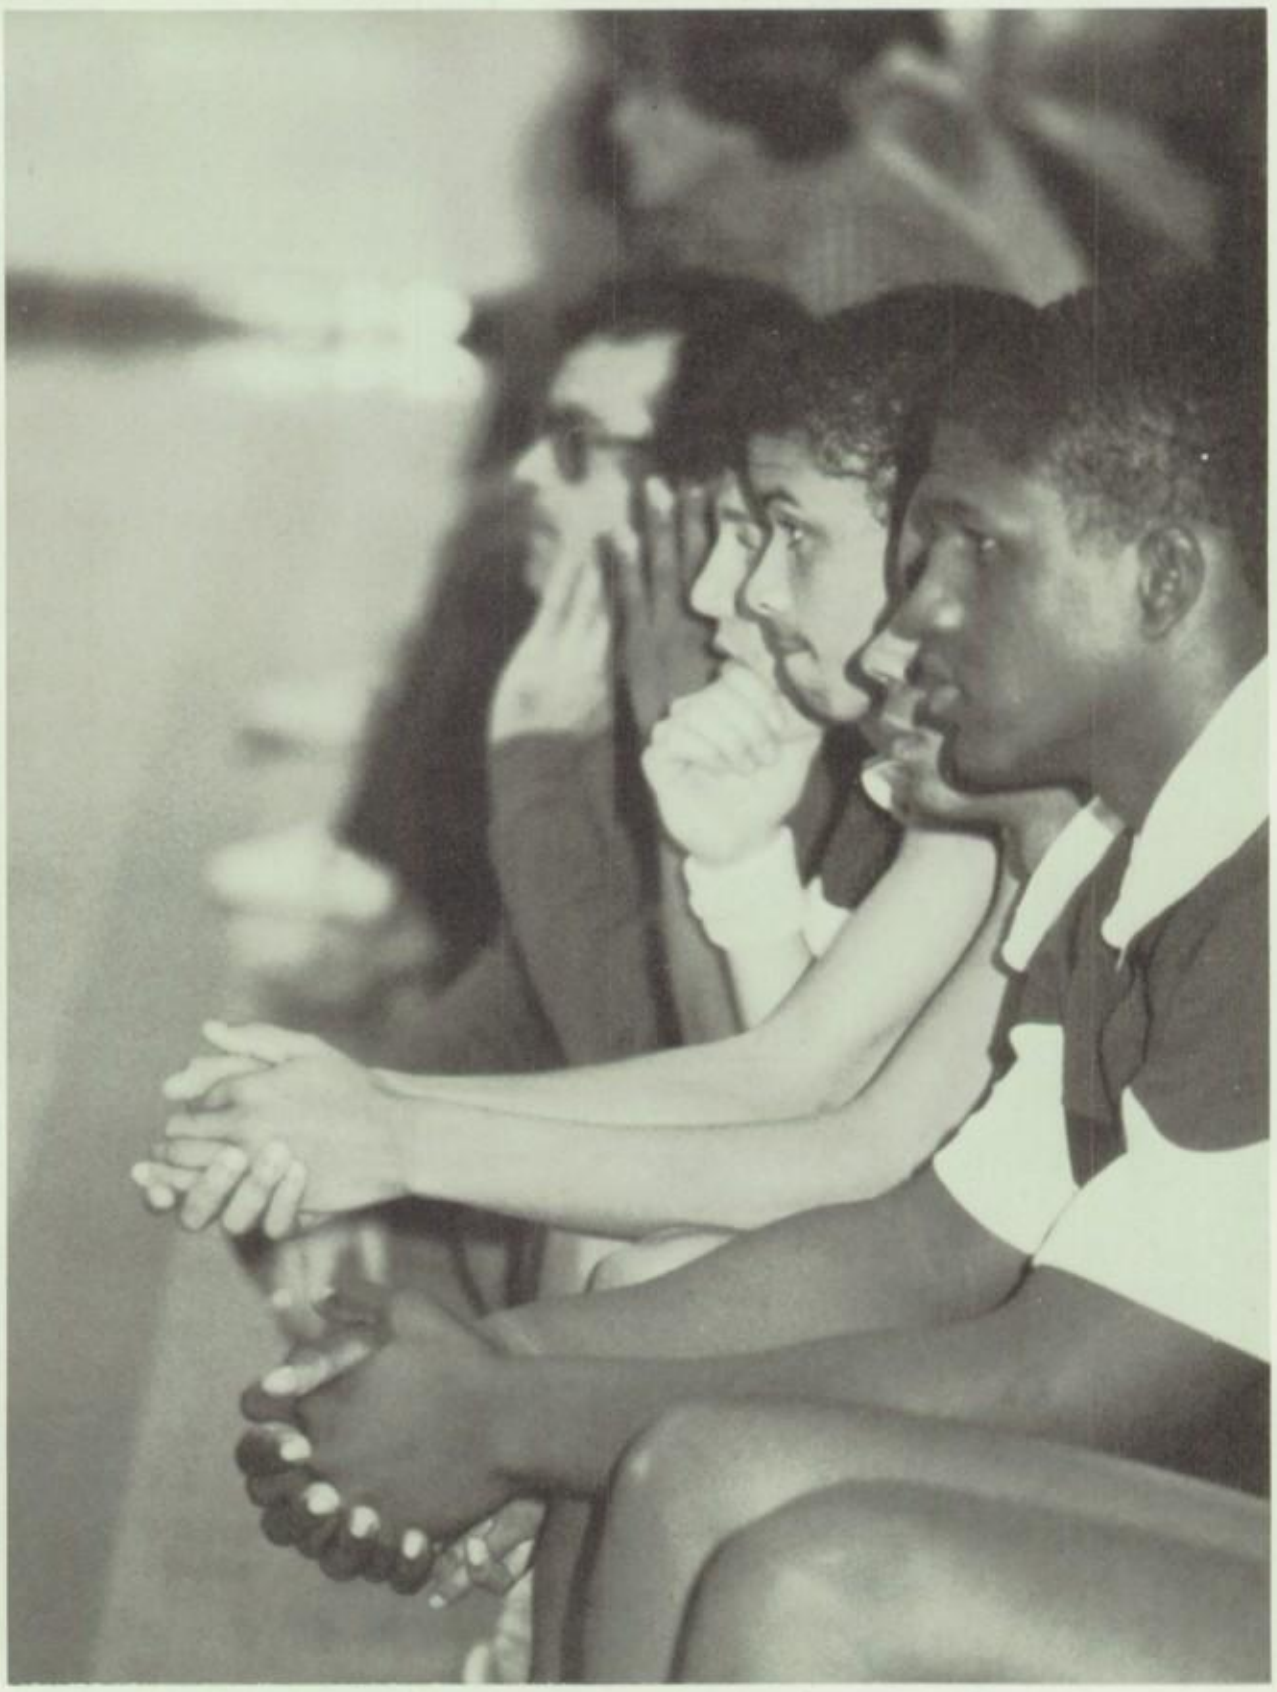
The two J.V. centers Darius Henderson and Arthur Phillips dominated the middle and kept opponents away from the basket.

The J.V. Noles proved to the Camino Real League and the rest of their opposition that for the next two years Murphy will once again be among the powers of the C.I.F.









FROSH BASKETBALL

The Frosh Basketball Team had a very up and down season. The Nobles had trouble getting started because many talented players didn't do the required conditioning by Coach Matthews. That left very few talented players. The Nobles then were cut down to only seven players as grades made many players ineligible. When all the players were assembled, there were only about twelve left.

The Nobles started off by losing their seven pre-season games. This was mainly because the team was not used to each other yet. As the season began, the team dropped its first season game, they started to look better. As the season continued, they seemed to improve and started to win. The team proved that teamwork and loyalty can overcome lack of talent. The Nobles ran a fast break offense, which left other teams too tired to play and that is when the Nobles shined.

The Nobles were led in scoring by co-MVP's Rodney Walker and John McKnight. Point Guard Darrel "Pete" Rhodes played excellent balancing the 1-3-1 offense. Juan Stripling, who was lost toward the end of the year with an ankle injury, seemed to improve greatly. David Irie and Brian Butts provided timely baskets. Dwayne Freeman proved to be a great player at the end of the year and Franklin Roper came off the bench to help the offense.

The Nobles played well in the league with a 6-6 season record. They closed out the season by stunning a very good Verbum Dei team. Although their record wasn't that great, the Nobles are definitely looking toward a bright future.

Varsity Soccer

A Bright Future

This year's soccer season was definitely a most interesting one. It was full of ups and downs. Although it might not have been what some people call successful, in other aspects it was.

As the season progressed, the players began to become better friends and learned to play soccer with great skill and enthusiasm. This was shown in the first win over St. Monicas, three goals to two in the second round.

Not too much conditioning was done this season but all the players did get a chance to experience "Lenglirobics", a combination of exercises and drills put together by Mr. Lengliz.

Basically, the team was made up of people who didn't really know what they were doing. Even with all the efforts of Mr. Lengliz, it takes time to put together a soccer team, and we just didn't have enough of it.

One would have to say that this past season was a learning season. I'm sure Mr. Lengliz, in his first year as coach, influenced a lot of players. And isn't that really what we are out there for — to learn.

VARSITY BASEBALL

The Baseball teams here at Murphy have traditionally been mediocre. This year was supposed to be a better-than-usual kind of year. With high hopes we looked forward to returning varsity players-Byron Botshekan, Brian Tanaka, Kevin Harper, James Bledsoe and Victor Jackson. They brought experience as well as talent and leadership back to the team. One of the many strong points was the solid offense. The other teams tried and tried to destroy it, but they just couldn't. Because of the many defensive mistakes the team didn't live up to the expectations of Coach Yarrington. With quality pitching by Kevin Harper, he proved to other teams that he truly had an iron arm. With the new players for next year, we should see the team bring a new tradition of a winning season to Murphy.

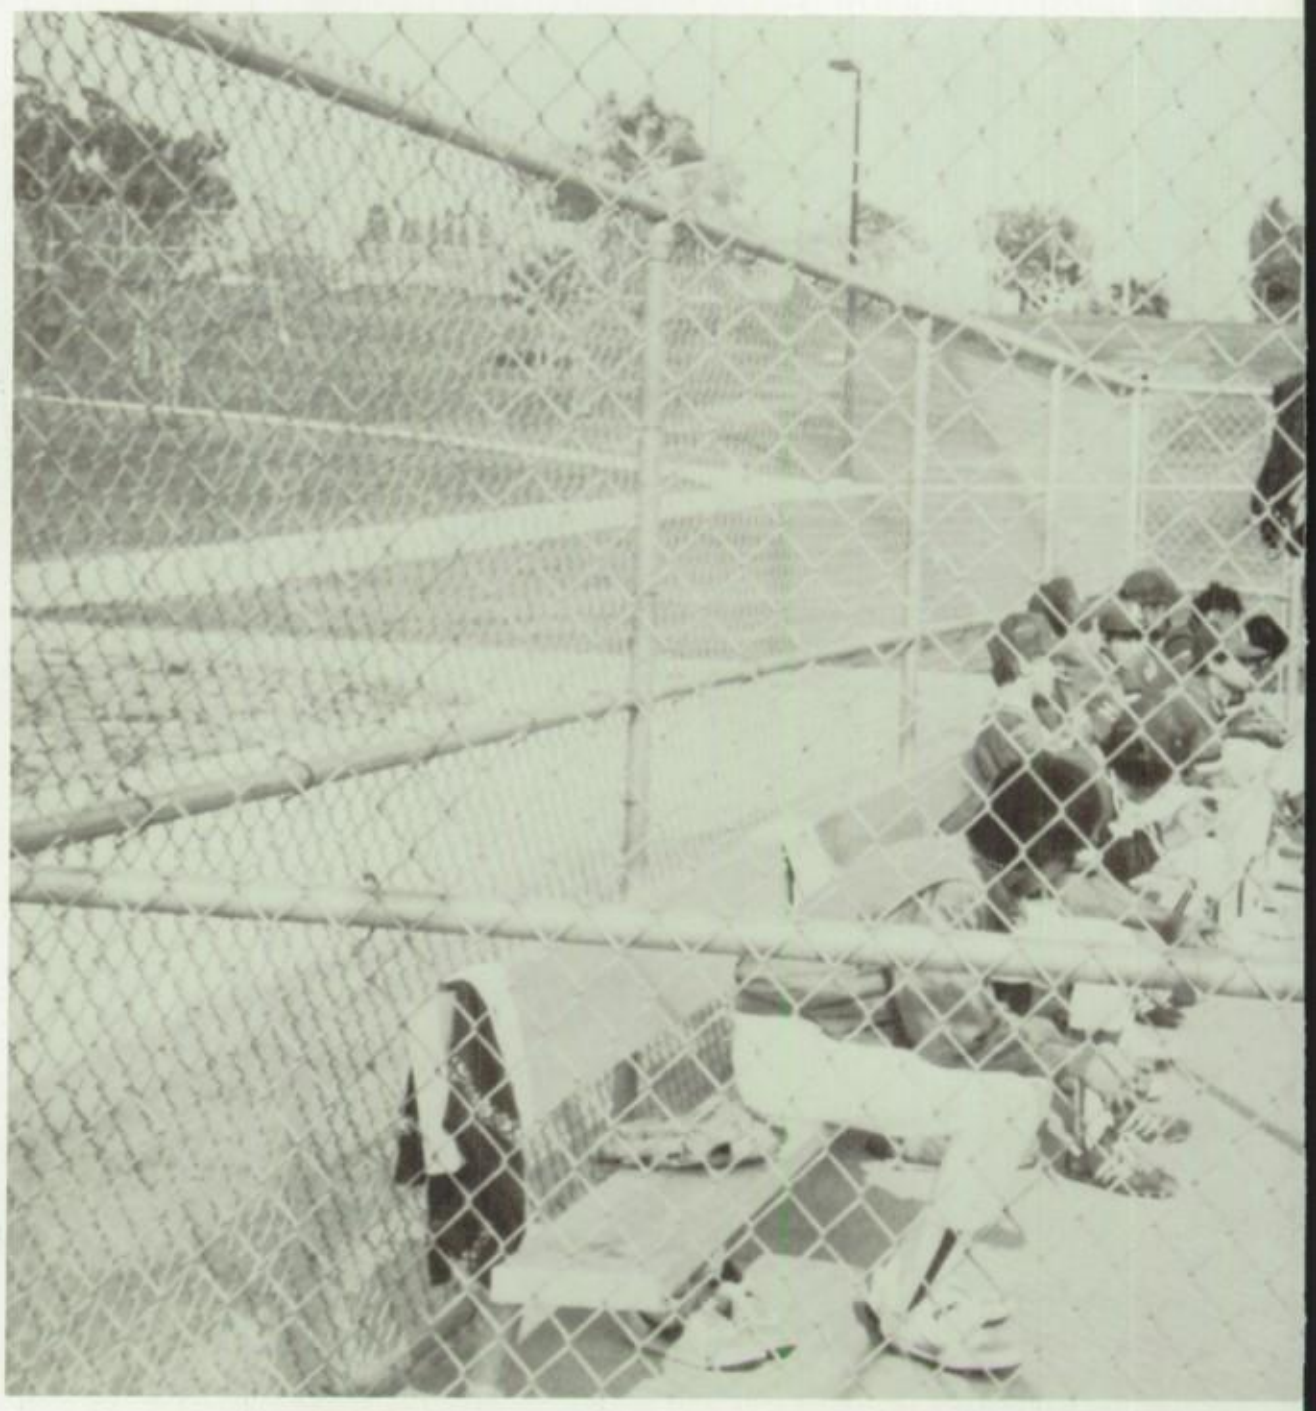
J.V. BASEBALL

The J.V. baseball team brought a new and invigorating new tradition to Murphy, they had for once an average season. We have never had a brighter season here at Murphy. With great talents like — Jesse Gore, Stan Marker, Jaime Espinosa and Cedric Brown, the team impressed the doubters. The Nobles had a slow start but improved one hundred percent. Through well executed pitching and hitting, the Nobles turned the season around. With a new J.V. coach, Steve Capic, the team had to adjust to a new philosophy. As expected, they did it with ease. I am sure we will see much more from these young talents.



TRACK AND FIELD
TODAY AND TOMORROW

The 1984 Daniel Murphy track team, has brought back the pride and respect that has been missing in our high school. They consists of a group of talented individuals under the direction and inspiration of their coaches Terry Mathews and Dennis Banks. Unlike other past track teams, this one has an unusual intimacy that keeps the team motivated and victorious. One can actually feel the closeness and respect that exist between the athletes.

Daniel Murphy High School is not fortunate to have its own track and field. However, this inconvience does not prevent the team from having a through practice. Coach Mathews is a brilliant and very creative trainer. He has a substitute for almost every track and field event. Pan Pacific Park, Santa Monica beach, Cheviot Hills, and Griffith Park, are all popular attractions for track team practices. The team suffers through brutally, unmerciful practices. However, they prepare them for the reality of the track meets.

One of this years most dramatic and emotional meets was a triangular meet against Bishop Montgomery and Saint Monica. Bishop Montgomery was one of the team's leading competition. During the meet, Murphy and Montgomery were struggling for first place. Murphy took the lead by winning the mile relay. At the time, most of the team felt they had won the meet, but the triple jump was dominated by Bishop Montgomery. Murphy disappointedly lost by one point. This meet revealed a side of Coach Mathews that many people have never seen. Throughout the meet, Coach Mathews became very emotional. He jumped and cheered waving his fist with the rest of the team as they won different events. Even though the team had lost the meet, he was very proud of the effort they had given. The team realized that winning league was not an impossibility. With a little hard work and dedication it could be accomplished.

Daniel Murphy High School is proud to have a team with that winning spirit. The unity and intimacy that is present in the track team is also evident within the student body. The Daniel Murphy High School track team has set an example for future teams to follow. An example of unity, respect, pride and most importantly success.

This years Daniel Murphy varsity volleyball team played with high hope and enthusiasm throughout their season. Despite the loss of some players due to injuries or altercations, and a lack of height on the front-line, the Nobles still managed to be competitive against such strong teams as Brentwood or St. Monica. Captain Eugene Lim, along with spikers Rolan Mercado and Andrew Hunter, led the way to victory for this young and inexperienced team. First year coach John Finn played a major role in the development of the team. With only two starters leaving, next years team seems to have a bright future.

May thy virtues be exalted,
And thy song far-famed.

STILL GOIN STRONG

Daniel Murphy's Tennis Team had a successful season this past year. With many returning players on the squad, improvement was clearly visible after gaining experience from last year's matches (the first year Murphy has had a tennis team in quite a while). Playing in the Santa Fe League, we encountered powerful oppositions such as Chaminade who participated in the Del Rey League the year before and La Salle who was the Metro League champions the year before. Daniel Murphy prevailed to the end. An equal feat was achieved in non-league competition with Murphy winning five of the six matches they had played.

Two delightfully surprising newcomers into this year's team were Freshmen Thomas Lumsden and Darren Joyner who more than held their territory. The two other singles players, David Kang and Emilio Fernandez, last year's MVP in doubles singles play respectively, still proved supremely beneficial; while, the doubles players-Michael Ahn, Robert Ducut, Joon Pak, and Jose Velasco — were superbly effective, providing the team with precious wins when needed. The reserve, headed by Marlon Ignacio and Andy Perez, proved valuable, supplying assistance when required.

Team play was not restricted to rough competition on the courts and Coach Cuthbertson's rigorous training program. Fun and enjoyment was surely felt by each and every player throughout the season. Through each victory celebration and every occasional agonizing loss, the team still remained lively and full of spirit on every returning trip home. The tennis team has proven itself among Daniel Murphy's numerous sports programs as one of the more successful. The squad's newly found fortune can not be rewarded to any particular person, any member would tell you — "it was a triumphant team effort."

SWIM TEAM

Although not many people may have realized, swimming this year was a successful sport! The team may not have been as large (in number) as other swim teams around; but number to us made no difference. You might say we could have been called, "The Almighty Ten!" The brave ones . . . who stuck together through 6:00 practices in the morning and through the cold weather at swim meets. Courage was something we did not lack. Courage was what could be found in every swimmer, including our own coach John D. Lynch, the most "couragous" swimmer of all. We, the swimmers of Daniel Murphy High School, are tremendously thankful to our coach. A man with an extreme amount of patience, understanding and care! A man who was brave enough to help us become the best in ourselves. THANKS A MILLION JOHN! And thanks to all of those who believed in us and helped us along our season. We weren't the best there was, . . . but we sure as hell tried! We all hope that next year's swim team will be able to accomplish as much, if not more, than we have . . . this year!

This year's golf team proved to be a wonder in itself. Our resident golfers, led by Joey Hentz, Stan Marker and George West, shot some excellent scores. They didn't win a lot of games but they sure had a great time. When they walked onto the golf course the other team was heard to say, "our caddies have arrived."

The most promosing note for this year is the underclassman — Larry, Curly and Moe. Thanks to Mr. Tinker, who carried most of the bags and for being a great help in adding up the scores. All in all, the golf team had a swinging good time.

Hello Readers:

This is a note from your 1984 yearbook staff. This page was originally for the 1984 Golf team but during the year they banned our photographers from going to their tournaments so we decided to take this opportunity to Thank many of the cooperative coaches with returning copy and for putting up with the yearbook photographers during their season. A special thank you goes to the following coaches:

Mr. Sterling Hart

Again, thank you and we hope you will have a great season next year. And for those who will not be returning, good luck at your new school.

CALIFORNIA SCHOLARSHIP FEDERATION

The California Scholarship Federation is an organization whose purpose is to instill high standards of scholarships, service, and citizenship on the part of students of the Senior High Schools of California. To become a California Scholarship Sealbearer a student must earn membership in at least four of his last six semesters — one of which must be based on senior grades. Academic requirements for membership include a minimum of three A's and one B each semester.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is an organization whose purpose is to create an enthusiasm for scholarships, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to develop character in the students of American secondary schools.

To be eligible for membership a student must have a cumulative average of at least a "B". In addition, participation and leadership in school and other activities are required.

IRON LEAGUE

Founded two years ago as a secretive organization based on stealth, strength and cunning. The Iron League survived yet another year. The Iron League continued to exist this term through the hard work and effort put out by the underclass members. But, though the Iron League was present throughout the school year, the presence was not acknowledged by the faculty and students many a time.

"What exactly is the Iron League?" one may ask. The Iron League is a war games club based on the game of "Dungeons and Dragons." But bleeding into chess, checkers. Ogre, Second Strike, Top Secret, and Gamma World. It is the club that most people say does not exist.

The club started in 1982, and will stick around until at least 2002. But, 'til then, remember to keep the faith and to stay out of the dark alleys in the land of Melobonia.

COMPUTER CLUB

The first computer club at Daniel Murphy was organized in 1980, and was known as the GIGO (Garbage In — Garage Out) Computer Club. Its membership consisted of only two students. By the end of the academic year, the Club had disappeared.

Thanks to the donation of an Apple IIe Computer System from Apple Computer, Inc., the Club was inspired to reorganize this year. The Club has an elite membership of twenty-five exceptional students and a new name, The Noble Computer Club.

As the future rapidly becomes the present, students at Daniel Murphy must mature and increase their knowledge of computer technology. If not, they will fall prey to "Future Shock."

CAMPUS MINISTRY

Campus Ministry at Daniel Murphy High School is an emerging group of students and faculty who are interested in developing and providing for the spiritual and liturgical needs of the school. As the year develops, Campus Ministry has been invited to work on the liturgies of the school, the Vocation Awareness Week, Youth Day at Anaheim at the Religious Education Congress, and Holy Week services. The daily prayer period at the beginning of school, the planning for prayer days or retreats, etc. is part of the Campus Ministry's ambit. Greatest challenge ofthe Campus Ministry team is the day-to-day example and presentation of Good News to the students in the informal campus life of the students at Murphy. Participation in community and parochial events is also encouraged by the Campus Ministry Committee, a developing group on the Murphy campus.

ATHLETIC ACHIEVERS

As I look back over the year, I have many fond memories of the Letterman's Club. We were a rag tag bunch from the very beginning but we managed to get many things accomplished. Members of the Letterman's Club helped with football games, basketball games, security for assemblies, and for other events. What is even more important is that all of us maintained the spirit of a noble man. We all performed to the best of our abilities and did what was expected of us. Isn't that what being a noble is all about?

THE SELECT FEW

The Daniel Murphy Security Team founded in 1982 grew to become a chosen select group of responsible, dedicated and uniformed noble men. During the Summer of 1983, I selected fifteen candidates for the security team suggested by the Dean of Student Activities. And after proper evaluation all of them were admitted and their jackets ordered.

During the school year some of the duties of these men were to set up for school functions and to insure security and safety at all the Murphy dances. Basically, to help preserve the cleanliness and safety of the Noble campus.

I wish to reserve my best hopes for the Daniel Murphy Security Team, and take this opportunity to thank the fine men on the team and special thanks to Mr. Bob Gliddon and Mr. Terry Mathews.

PEP CLUB

Pep '84, is a phrase which describes this year's Pep Club. Daniel Murphy, had a great deal to cheer about in the '83-'84 sports year. The club is a very special entity to the school. The Pep Club is the organization in Murphy's institution, which has the greatest abundance of spirit and emotion. This spirit and emotion, is incorporated into the school's awesome athletic's department, to create an exciting concept. This concept, is what Murphy Spirit is all about. High goals, and positive attitudes. The teams at Murphy had more than adequate support, at its football and basketball games. Mr. Cuthbertson, was the moderator of the club and he did a wonderful job. The dance the Pep Club helped sponsor was a great success. Thank you Cheerleaders for keeping the crowd electrified. Being the President, I must say I had a wonderful time and have memories which will last forever.

MOTHER'S CLUB

The Daniel Murphy Catholic High School Mothers' Club.

Your Mothers' Club was founded when St. John Vianney High School was founded approximately thirty years ago.

When the old school building was torn down, its name was changed to DANIEL MURPHY because of the large donation made by the Murphy family.

The purposes of the Mothers' Club are fund raising for the needs of the students, social for the getting together of the parents, and assisting the teachers in any way possible.

The Mothers' Club has by-laws and a rich heritage of custom and tradition.

There are executive officers, such as President, two Vice Presidents, Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, a Treasurer and a General Board composed of the officers and numerous chairmanships.

There is also an Executive Board composed of the officers and two chairs, Hospitality and Publicity.

On the General Board, the alumni mothers are represented by two chairs, Alumni Chairman and Alumni Co-Chairman.

The Past President is a member of the newly elected General Board.

Father Esposito gives the Mothers' Club annual goals. For example, in 1983, electric typewriters were needed. The Mothers' Club raised money to purchase forty electric typewriters.

In 1984, our goal is to raise money for three additional computers. Thanks to the splendid cooperation by the mothers in the club and the parents, our goal will be realized!

It has been a privilege and a pleasure to have been a member of the Mothers' Club for two years and to be your 1983-1984 President. The many new friends I have made give me rich memories of Daniel Murphy Catholic High School.

SHAKESPEARE SOCIETY

Two years ago with the arrival of our moderator, Mr. Richard Salassi, the hopes to cultivate Shakespearean interest among the Murphy community began. Since then this club has become the most exclusive on campus.

The prerequisites for acceptance into the club is that one must have been associated to the annual Shakespearean Play either as a crew member or one of the actors on stage. Membership must be renewed yearly and is determined by the club Moderator.

During the fall of 1983 the Shakespeare Society sponsored the production of William Shakespeare's Macbeth. The rehearsals started the first week of October and performances began November 17th. The production was directed by John Propster and produced by Mr. Richard Salassi.

The Society hopes to continue its growth toward ultimately creating a cultured Shakespeare oriented campus here at Murphy.

NOBLE CHORUS

Did you know that Daniel Murphy has a choir? It was started by one Mrs. Wendy Susank (DMHS' new Choral Director) who turned a Bunch of Boys into a Real Mens Chorus. While, some of the men join to see and or be seen by literally hundreds of girls while performing at various concerts at Notre Dame Academy, other do it for the fun of it. Oh! They also join because being in chorus counts as "A" grade on ones report card, which can help uplift ones GPA.

Chorus does many things such as competing against pro & non-pro choirs & performing in concerts, some members are often called to sing in & on television shows & movies ie. "Fame." On May 12, 1984, our mens chorus performed at a banquet for the corporate executives and major share holders of the Bank of America.

The Noble Chorus of 1983/1984 is Daniel Murphy's first "Real mens chorus" ever, therefore we at D.M.H.S. are striving for and expecting that this choir will be the best ever heard. And even though the choir only has a small amount of members our sound certainly isn't small nor our musical talent and potential. We have the talent, we have an experienced, professional vocal coach, and to top it off we even have an elegant look! Not all we need is your support. By joing our choir, or just coming to hear us sing. We are looking forward to seeing you at our next performance.

Don't forget that with the Daniel Murphy Men's Chorus . . . "The Sky is the Limit!"

Chorus President

NOBLE NEWS

Freedom of the press. Free Speech. Normally, I wouldn't think much of these words. I would consider them to be words, describing simple ideals. After serving on the staff of the Noble News I have come to respect these values much more than I have in the past. While we didn't produce many issues this year, the ones that we did produce were successful. Realistically, the "voice" of the student on campus turned out to have laryngitis for most of the year. As I take my leave from the editorial staff of the Noble News, I can only leave my hopes for future success. Regardless of what anyone says, the students of Daniel Murphy need a voice for their views and opinions. Hopefully this voice will be strong next year. I hope that it will be heard.

CHEERLEADERS

This years' Daniel Murphy Cheerleaders worked a lot of long and hard hours in order to bring out school spirit within the Student Body. Because of their great enthusiasm, displayed throughout the year, they were awarded a spirit stick at camp last summer. This spirit stick symbolized the tremendous effort put forth by our girls. Despite being outnumbered by the opposing team's cheerleaders, our cheerleaders would never be out yelled by others.

This year's squad had something unique which made them special. In a time when a lot of cheers and cheerleaders seem routine, ours had a certain flare or style. It seemed as if each girl expressed her own individuality whole-heartedly towards the Murphy sports program; while cheering as a unit with her counter-parts. Throughout the ups and down of each season we could always count on one thing — support from our cheerleaders.

Entree

Congratulations gentlemen. You are now seniors. The once timid freshmen have now emerged at the top of the hill. We juniors have had to put up with endless pressure, work, and deadlines with so few precious time and patience to finish our work. This last year has been a year of test and trial for us. We have had to bring out our best qualities to get through it. Such attributes as patience, perseverence, faith, hope, intelligence, luck, and stamina were our guides.

All through the year we worked hard, played hard, and partied hard. It's hard to imagine that it was almost yesterday that we were just timid, frightened, and impressionable Freshmen. At a glance, it's hard to forget all the teachers for giving their time, patience, and understanding when we needed it.

But what makes this year most memorable is all of our funny, wierd, close, and great classmates and friends. It seems that without them life at Murphy would be unbearable. David Allen's crazy "S" cruecut "I want it off!" But Mr. Matthews!! Ron Hammond and all his dumb jokes. "Why do fish swim? . . . Give Up? . . . Because they can't walk!" Everyone's attempted imitations of Stephen Sham — "No, that's wong Dr. Womig" Mark Santa Romana always getting in trouble in Dr. Romig's class. Which was followed by a detention. Juan Quezada's favorite song of "Who's the greatest of them all, Juan Quezada." David Gerber's everlasting belief that the San Diego Chargers will win the Super Bowl. The hilarious outbreaks of laughter coming from Salassi's room after an awesome putdown. Mr. Lengliz's warm greeting of "How are you doing my friend?" always brightened up your day. The new nickname of Van Chaney — Papa Jack. And the fastest talker in the whole school, Jason Everly — What did you say Jason? Slow down, will ya?

During the course of our junior year, many activities were presented to us. We sold food at the Homecoming game, only to be rained upon. But we still took in a big profit. We also charged class dues to everyone of twenty-five dollars. (Why! For what). Here was the ring ceremony where the juniors received their class rings during a pre-vacation mass. Later in the year, the Homecoming Basketball Dance/Game gave us a good time. We sold doughnuts in the morning and had bake sales.

But the biggest social of the year was by far the 1984 Junior-Senior Prom in the Crystal Room of the Beverly Hills Hotel. We Junior Class Officers, worked very hard to present to you a prom which all other proms will be judged by. We started working on the prom during June of our Sophomore year and continued when we came back to school.

A tremendous amount of time, effort, and energy was put into this event by many of our classmates. Time and money always seemed in short supply among us. But by the time May 4, 1984 came to be, the tremendous amount of energy, time, money and work brought you a magical and magnificent dinner and dance. I would like to thank Dr. Romig, Mr. Daly, Mr. Yuhasz, and all the people who gave us their time, advise, and support.

Sincerely,
Robert Ducut

Salads

The sophomore year was a year of undeciciveness, too old for our errors to be excused as freshman mistakes, but yet too young to gain the respect that juniors and seniors possess.

The sophomore year, like the freshman, was full of many people, places, and memorable events. These were events that could not have occurred at any other school but Murphy. There are many things to recall. Among them were Mr. Mathews' 100 Pt. essay test, Mrs. May's great biology tests with phenomenal curves, the yearlong paper drive which many students spent many long hours on, and Mr. Daly's great reading assignment, The Color Purple, a book I'm sure all enjoyed reading. There was even a taste of culture with the croissant sales. There was the fantastic football homecoming dance that was superbly decorated.

Our class enjoyed many successful events including the annual night at the Underground Arcade and the sophomore class dance.

In our two years at Murphy, we have grown spiritually, physically, and mentally. We have come together as a class to share many memorable experiences. I am proud to say that the Class of '86 has lived up to the school motto: "A noble man does noble things, and by noble things he stands."

Sincerely,
Derick Duvivier

Apetizers

My evaluation

The first day, as I entered Daniel Murphy, I knew nothing would ever be the same. The thought of growing up and maintaining responsibilities and meeting new people was an adventure, yet also frightening. Eventually I adapted to this new environment, meeting a lot of great people and a lot of interesting and friendly teachers. As I have grown towards this new environment, I wanted to do more things than just come to school, work, and go home. I wanted to be part of the school and know what was going on. I wanted people to know who I am and I wanted to know people. One thing that I'd like to let the Freshman class know as well as all the other students, is that not only am I their president, but I am also a friend, someone who cares about the school, but also cares about the people within it. I am friendly, spiritual, and an outgoing person and would always be available as a president as well as a friend. To tell you the truth being president isn't all fun and as glamorous as you would think it would be. It is hard work, responsibilities, and requires patience, but with the great help of my two moderators, Mr. Jackson and Mr. Cuthbertson, I will have no problems whatsoever. There was one thing, and that was Noble Week. I understand the fact that that was a way of introducing oncoming freshmens but the fact that they did it in a way that was harmful and put down the pride and dignity of others is a bad example of how a real noble man should act, and I'm sure every single freshman can back me up on that.

As far as the school goes, it's great. A lot of people though, as I hear from different people complain about how the school is so small, how it doesn't have a playground or how we don't have an auditorium. This is true, but to contribute the knowledge we have and putting and giving an effort for the betterment of the school as well as for yourselves and by this we will equal any school and will be one step ahead.

Teachers in Daniel Murphy are very friendly and concerned about the things the students do. They make up an effort to try and help students to reach their goal and push us even if we don't always agree, that's why I think it is important that we as students also put up that extra little effort to do the best we can so all the training given us will all be worth it.

Sincerely,
Leo C. Manuel

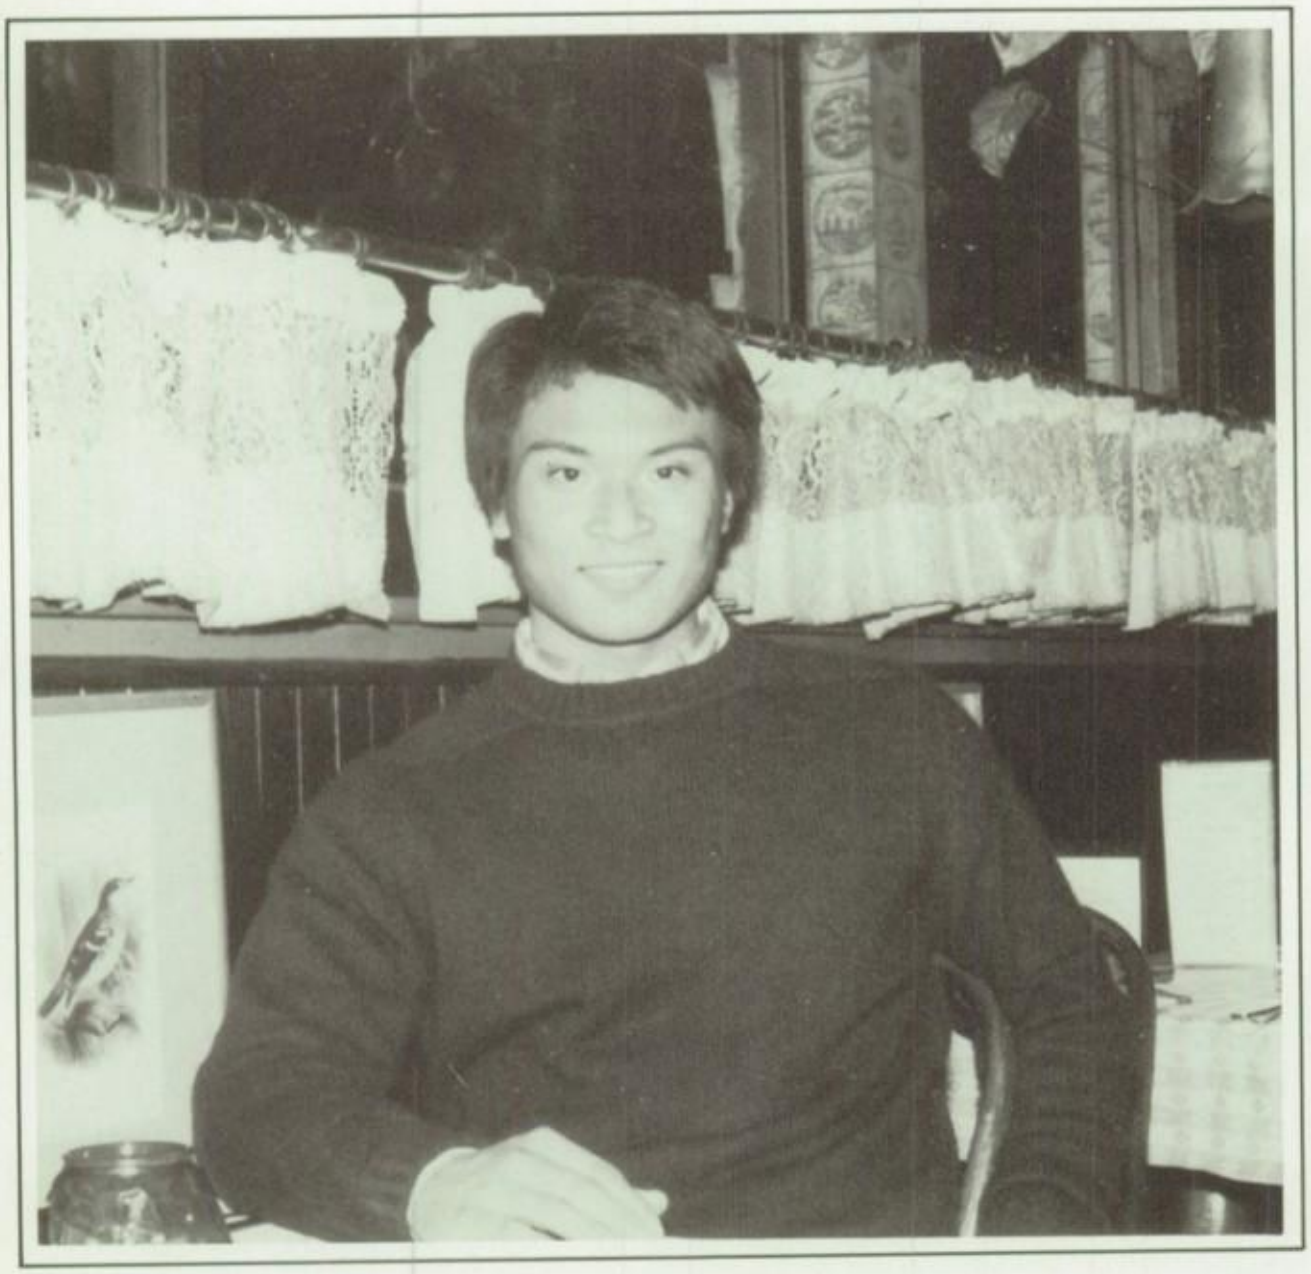
DANGER



Dear Fellow Nobles,

The 1984 Nobiles staff may be classified as "industrious." These men committed themselves to the concept of excellence. An idea we were not far from using as our theme and in our hearts the idea remained as exemplified throughout the 1984 Nobiles.

As the editor, I thank them all for a job well done. I feel confident that you have enjoyed this annual above all others in the past.

In the early part of the school year, we brainstormed many times in quest to find a flexible and proper theme for 1984. The idea of the Olympics arose several times without question, however I strictly adhered to my commitment to be different from other schools this year. Several ideas came one right after another, some of them were, "illegal," "Mark of excellence" and "Hollywood." Ultimately, we all agreed to the "restaurant" theme after a few heated debates. My copy editor, Robert Sargeant contributed this idea. However, we also fell in love with the idea of "Burgandy and Grey", an idea taken from Santa Barbera High School's 1983 yearbook. With feelings divided and hearts confused we chose to retain both these ideas. We used the "Burgandy and Grey" on the cover and the "Restaurant" as our in the book.

The 1984 Nobiles cover is one of the most expensive in the history of Daniel Murphy yearbooks. We budgeted wisely in hopes to create one of the best. Unfortunately, the cutback was on the number of color pages in the book.

One may also notice that the 1984 Nobiles does not have one single page of advertizing. This is because I wanted to devote more pages to our sports programs in the school. We are expanding so well in athletics I believe it is justifiable to add a couple more pages. In the yearbooks past, I have noticed that the editors before have been neglegent concerning the solution to the problem. So I took it upon myself to hopefully start a precedent. The seniors of the 1984 Nobiles wish the athletic programs here at Daniel Murphy continued success.

The remainder of the book has followed a very standard pattern in number of pages as the years prior. In order to stay in line with the theme, we incorporated it in some of our copy. We didn't do so in all because it would have become too redundant and distasteful.

After reading this Annual we hope that you will have had a brief flash of exciting memories in the school year 1983-1984.

Sincerely yours,

Roderic Anthony Soriano
